THREE CHARGES OF LIBEL.
 They Are Made Against the Editors of the Scrantonian.
 Richard Little and Michael J. O'Toole, editor and associate editor of The Scrantonian, were arraigned before Alderman Kellow, of the Fourteenth ward, yesterday afternoon, on a charge of criminal libel, preferred by John Kelly, ex-alderman of the thirteenth ward.
 Attorneys Cornelius Smith and Thomas P. Duffy appeared for the defendants and W. W. Taylor represented the complainant. The latter averred that an article published in The Scrantonian June 25, was detrimental to his character and represented him as maintaining a public nuisance in the vicinity of his property on Scranton street between the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad and Seventh street.
 Joseph Hamm, foreman of The Scrantonian composing room, Sanitary Officer Burke, Lieutenant of Police William and Patrolman Saul were sworn in as a jury to try the case. There was no cause for action and placed the costs on Kelly.
 Jacob Ellman, constable in Alderman John P. Kelly's court, afterwards had a warrant issued for Little and O'Toole on a similar charge, and the editors entered bail in the sum of 500 each for their appearance at 7 o'clock next Friday evening before Alderman Kellow for a hearing.
 Alderman John P. Kelly preferred the same charge against the publishers and Hotel Keeper Dan O'Connor, of Robinson street, furnished bail in the sum of $500 for the hearing Friday evening.

JOSEPH BEDDOE SHOT.
 Badly Injured by Joseph Roney at Archbald.
 Joseph Roney, of Archbald, shot and seriously wounded Joseph Beddoe, of that place on Saturday evening last. The wounded man received two bullets in his hip and Roney made his escape and has not been captured yet.
 The affair is supposed to be the result of a quarrel between two factions which resulted in a murder four years ago and which has been continued ever since.
 Beddoe was drinking in a saloon when a strange person entered and said he was wanted outside. He passed out and was met by Roney who without hardly any warning fired two shots and then fled to the woods nearby. Roney had drawn $1,200 from a bank in this city on Saturday and it is thought that he intended to kill Beddoe and then sail for his native county. County Detective Leshon is working on the case.

 The Sterling Coal company, mention of the incorporation of which was made in yesterday's Tribune, is to operate a washery at Plymouth, receiving its supply from the old Reynolds colliery dumps.
 The statement that the company proposes to manufacture coke is an error. Colonel Wrees, who is at the head of the company, says there was never any such intention and is at a loss to explain what gave rise to the report.

EVERYTHING ABOUT BOARD'S FINANCES
ought to make interesting reading for taxpayers.

Firstly, Some Figures from the City Treasurer's Report Showing How Much Money the Board Spent During the Last Fiscal Year; Secondly, a Sample Brick or Two of How Some of the Money Was Spent, and, Thirdly, an Account of How Some More Is to Be Spent.
 The matter of finance figured very conspicuously in last night's meeting of the school board and if properly weighed as presented below will be found to make up in interest all that was lost by the failure of the high school training school committee to submit its report on the high school faculty.
 The statement of the treasurer for the last month of the fiscal year was presented. It showed a balance of $37,408.41, of which $13,725.57 is the general school account; $13,508.97, in the building account; and $3,173.87 in the sinking fund.
 The board started the year with $27,737.25 in the general school account; $22,175 in the building account and $72,500 in the sinking fund.
 The item of $23,175, of course, does not figure materially in this reckoning, as it is simply set aside to pay off bonds. The remaining $39,237.25, however, does figure in the report, and the board has spent, minus the balance of $33,881.54.
 All but $1,372.57 is represented in the building account. Last month $20,000 borrowed from the West Side bank to meet current expenses of the general account. Last night Chairman Evans of the finance committee called attention to the fact that all of the $20,000 was spent excepting $1,372.57 and that bills aggregating $2,000 were approved and waiting payment. His committee was authorized to borrow another $25,000.
TWO BILLS RETURNED.
 Controller Howell supplied a sample brick of how some of this money was spent. Two bills that the board had passed and submitted for the controller's counter-signature were returned with the signature wanting.
 One was for painting a school fence. It charged fourteen days labor at $3 a day and one hundred and sixty pounds of paint at 12 cents a pound, a total of $166.80. The only comment the controller made was: "Upon wages for painters are 25 cents an hour, which for ten hours would be $250."
 The other bill was for pointing and whitewashing the walls of a school building. The charge was 245 hours at 4 1/2 cents an hour. At the bottom of this the controller wrote: "This work was done by two colored men who did not receive over 2 1/2 a day."
 Mr. Shires, of the building committee, which recommended the payment of these bills, explained that on motion of Mr. Langan there was no legal question involved in the bills. The rule to the effect that only union men should be employed on school work, and this being the case, the committee felt itself called upon to allow the union scale of wages for this work. As to the 4 1/2 cents an hour for pointing and whitewashing, he said the man who did the job informed the committee that forty of 4 1/2 cents was for plastering and the other 4 1/2 cents for whitewashing. The 40 cents represented the plasterer's union scale of wages plus the profit.
 Man, Langan and Mr. Casey denied the statement that they favored such a rule as Mr. Shires referred to and Mr. Casey challenged Mr. Shires to show on the minutes where any such rule had been adopted. The rule was adopted on their motion, they said, was one requiring that the union label should be placed on all printed matter used by the board.
BILLS REFERRED BACK.
 The bills were referred back to the building committee. Mr. Gibbons wanted to refer the matter to Attorney Reedy, the board's solicitor, to ascertain whether or not the controller had the power to veto bills.
 "If he has the right, I admire him for exercising it," said Mr. Gibbons, "but I think he has no such power. To my mind he is acting a little fresh."
 Mr. Jennings argued against this, saying that the controller has no question involved as yet; that the only thing to ascertain was whether the bills were or were not excessive. On his motion the bills went back to the building committee.
 Another new building is to be constructed. It is to take the place of the present No. 2 in the Twelfth ward, and is not to cost over $30,000, at least it was "resolved" that its cost should not exceed that figure.
 As the chair was about to proceed with the reports of committees, Mr. Walsh arose and with a "Just wait a minute," read from a slip of paper: "I move that a new twelve-room building be erected in the Twelfth ward to take the place of No. 2."
 The leading or the dominant faction made an effort to have the matter referred to the building committee, but Mr. Walsh wouldn't have it that way. He had been turned down by successive building committees for three years and he was determined to get his building now, without the committee's assistance.
 He made a motion to lay the reference motion on the table and it carried with such a vociferous "aye" that the opposition did not call for a division. The original motion to build the new school was then put. It carried by the following vote:
 Ayes—Messrs. Francis, O'Malley, Casey, Roche, Zedler, Walsh, Jennings, Schriener, Langan, Gibbons, Leonard, Davis, 12.
 Nays—Messrs. Shires, Evans, May, Neill, Jayne, Phillips, Barker, Schwass—3.
WHY THEY OPPOSED.
 Nearly all the members who voted against the motion said they recognized the necessity of a new building there, but felt the district could not stand the expense, this year, after having erected two new buildings and an addition to a third.
 Mr. Walsh moved that the cost of the building should not exceed $25,000 as the rule the board prescribes. That this should include heating, ventilating, grading, architect's fees and every other expense connected with the building. Mr. Walsh accepted the amendment and the motion passed.
 Mr. Walsh also succeeded in having a motion passed directing Architect James Fenevy to proceed with the plans. Mr. Walsh said this matter left to the building committee, but when Mr. Walsh protested that "the

POSSIBILITY OF A SETTLEMENT
BUILDERS' EXCHANGE MAY TAKE ACTION TONIGHT.

The Woodworkers' Union Held a Meeting Last Night and Decided to Bury the Hatchet with the Building Trades' Council—A. C. Cattermull Has Not Yet Returned from Philadelphia—What T. I. Kidd Has to Say About the Situation as He Sees It.
 It is definitely understood that the strike situation will be thoroughly discussed at tonight's meeting of the Builders' Exchange.
 Those who are in a position to know, state that a proposal for a compromise will be introduced by some of the members and it is thought by many that the Exchange will take some definite action regarding the present trouble.
 The Woodworkers' union held a meeting last night and unanimously decided to bury the hatchet with the Building Trades Council.
 At the meeting of the union held on Saturday evening a committee was appointed to confer with the council and find out the feeling of that body in regard to reconciliation.
 The committee delivered its report last evening and it proved to be very favorable. The union elected delegates to the council and these will be present at the meeting of that body to be held tomorrow evening.
WILL NOT QUIT.
 The union further decided not to quit work this morning, as they desire to give their employees plenty of time in which to consider the question.
 A. C. Cattermull had not returned from Philadelphia at an early hour this morning and it is not probable that he will reach the city much before noon today. He will certainly arrive in the city today some time and if the members of the Exchange desire his presence at the meeting he will be ready to appear.
 T. I. Kidd secretary of the National Wood Workers Association, was seen by a Tribune man at a late hour last night and made a short statement in regard to the situation. He said:
 "I was present at and addressed the meeting of the woodworkers this evening and I am very glad that the breach between them and the Building Trades Council is satisfactorily healed. The general outlook I must say is more hopeful for the strikers than it has been yet and I am almost sure that the members of the Exchange will decide to act wisely at their meeting this morning."
HAD CONFERENCES.
 I had extended conferences with several of the leading members of the Exchange today and they all appear to be desirous of effecting some sort of a compromise or at least to hold a conference with the men."
 There can be nothing definite learned about the results of yesterday's meeting of the carpenters' national executive committee until the arrival of Mr. Cattermull. The strikers yesterday, however, were very sanguine as regards the result of the projected appeal to the American Federation of Labor.

MR. FREEMAN HAS RESIGNED.
 Attorney James McKinney, of Forest City, Will Succeed Him.
 W. H. Freeman, farm agent for the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company, tendered his resignation to Superintendent Loomis of the department of mining and real estate yesterday, to go into effect Saturday next.
 Attorney James McKinney, of Forest City, a practitioner in the courts of Susquehanna county, has been named as successor to Mr. Freeman. The appointment was in the city yesterday and spent several hours in conference with Superintendent Loomis. He will assume the duties of his office Monday next.
 Mr. Freeman, the retiring farm agent, has held the position for over twenty years. He resides at West Scranton, corner South Main avenue and Washburn street.

ODD KIND OF AN ASSET.
 An Effort Is Being Made to Have Clarence M. Sanderson's Cemetery Lots at Newark, New Jersey, Sold.

No. 6 in bankruptcy.
 A proceeding which is possibly unique in legal history was instituted yesterday in bankruptcy court before Referee C. A. Van Wormer. It is nothing other than the filing of a petition to sell the real estate of a bankrupt's family plot in a cemetery.
 When Clarence M. Sanderson filed his petition in voluntary bankruptcy last November he stated in his schedule that his total assets consisted of two lots in the Mt. Pleasant cemetery, Newark, N. J.
 Yesterday E. C. Newcomb, trustee for the creditors, as the law directs, proceeded to seize upon the assets. Following is the petition:
 In the District Court of the United States for the Western District of Pennsylvania.
 In the matter of Clarence M. Sanderson, a bankrupt.
 Respectfully represents, E. C. Newcomb, trustee of the estate of said bankrupt, that it would be for the benefit of said estate, each of said lots containing 25 square feet of land, more or less, should be sold, by auction, to the highest and best bidder for cash.
 Wherefore, he prays that he may be authorized to make such sale by auction of said real estate as aforesaid.
 Dated this 9th day of July, 1899.
 E. C. Newcomb, Trustee.
 The referee yesterday afternoon sent out notices to the creditors and the bankruptcy court set for the hearing on the petition would take place ten days hence.
 The lots in question comprise the family burying plot and contain the remains of a number of the bankrupt's relatives. It is very likely that something will intervene to prevent the threatened action.

CASES STATED ARGUED.
 City Wants to Find Out Where She Is at.

To ascertain whether or not action in assumption can be brought by the city to recover sewer assessment where liens have not been filed a case stated was argued before Judge Gunter yesterday. Andrew Smith, mine foreman at the Leggett's Creek, was defendant.
 He is a property owner in Section C of the sewer district and in favor of the construction of a sewer. He allowed the use of his name to have the status of affairs legally determined.
 An action of assumption was brought against him early in the day by the city of Scranton on the behalf of Vincent O'Hara, the contractor. City Solicitor Vesburg represented the city, and Attorney I. H. Burns appeared for Mr. O'Hara. Attorney M. J. Martin appeared for Mr. Smith.
 Immediately after the suit was begun, Mr. Martin for defendant accepted service and agreed to the "case stated." The facts are not disputed.
 All the parties signed a waiver allowing Judge Gunter to hand the decision and proposed to the court. With that waiver he could not hand down his decision till court shall meet in August.
 An opinion is expected in a week or so. If the judge shall decide that actions in assumption can be brought and the amount of the sewer assessment collected, Contractor O'Hara will proceed with the work of constructing the sewer.

VISITED PRICE AND HOWARTH.
 Burglars Entered the Office of That Firm Sunday Night.

Burglars entered the office of Price & Howarth's lumber yards on Sunday night and ransacked two safes, but secured only $5 in money, the valuable part of it being in old coins, valuable more for their numismatic than for their intrinsic worth.
 A bizarre feature of the affair was that the safes were both open and were placarded with signs bearing the legend: "This safe is not locked." The members of the firm took this precaution to prevent the safes from being blown open and injured, as there is never anything of any value kept in them. The men were evidently novices at the business, for some of the smaller drawers inside were broken open as if a hammer had been used, where the professional safe-men could have opened them without that trouble.
 Entrance was effected by one of the windows. The case has been referred to Detective Blair and if any of the old coins are passed the amateur burglars may soon be languishing behind prison bars.
